Web cams

The webcams are up and running, but are currently only available on our new test website. This will hopefully be live from April the 1st. The images are of a very good quality and will allow Doc users to check their vessels along with sea state and if there are any berths available as Visitors.

WEBSITE

It is hoped that our new website will be live by the end of this month. This will be a much needed update to our current website and will hopefully reflect the progressive stance of the Trust. I welcome any comments for improvement.
